

Consumer Confidence Survey

Today, the Reserve Bank released the results of the July 2020 round of its Consumer Confidence Survey (CCS)¹. In view of the Covid-19 pandemic, the survey was conducted through telephonic interviews during July 1-12, 2020 in thirteen major cities, viz., Ahmedabad; Bengaluru; Bhopal; Chennai; Delhi; Guwahati; Hyderabad; Jaipur; Kolkata; Lucknow; Mumbai; Patna; and Thiruvananthapuram. Perceptions and expectations on general economic situation, employment scenario, overall price situation and own income and spending have been obtained from 5,342 households across these cities.

Highlights:

- I. Consumer confidence plummeted in July 2020 with the current situation index (CSI) recording its all-time low; the future expectations index (FEI)², however, charted back into the positive territory indicating signs of recovery for the year ahead (Chart 1).

Note: Please see the excel file for time series data

- II. Consumer perception of the prevailing economic situation, employment scenario and own income was significantly lower than that in May 2020 (Tables 1, 2 and 5); respondents were, however, somewhat optimistic about these parameters for the coming year vis-a-vis the previous survey round.
- III. Most respondents reported reduction in discretionary spending though their overall spending increased during the last one year; they do not expect to increase non-essential spending in the coming year as well (Table 6, 7 and 8).

² CSI and FEI are compiled on the basis of net responses on the economic situation, income, spending, employment and the price level for the current period and a year ahead, respectively. $CSI/FEI = 100 + \text{Average of Net Responses of the above parameters}$.
