

Composition and Ownership Pattern of Deposits with Scheduled Commercial Banks: March 2003*

INTRODUCTION

The sample survey on composition and ownership pattern of bank deposits with all scheduled commercial banks, including Regional Rural Banks, is conducted by the Reserve Bank of India on an annual basis and the results are published regularly in the Reserve Bank of India Bulletin. The results of the latest survey as on March 31, 2003 are analysed in this article[®].

The survey schedule was designed to capture branch level data on ownership of deposits, classified according to broad institutional sectors and sub-sectors for each type of deposits, viz., current, savings and term, including inter-bank deposits. Out of 65,413 branches of scheduled commercial banks, a sample of 10,000 branches was selected for the purpose as per the following sampling design.

Top 3,500 bank branches, in terms of size of deposits, were selected with certainty. All bank branches of the States/Union Territories having 10 or less number of branches were also selected with certainty in order to ensure proper representation in the sample. Under this category, all the nine branches in Lakshadweep were selected. Out of the remaining 61,904 bank branches, 6,482 branches were selected using circular systematic sampling after arranging the branches in the descending order of their deposits, according to state, population group and bank. Of the 10,000 bank branches selected, filled-in schedules were received from 9,218 branches resulting in the response rate at 92.2 per cent. Using the estimation procedure associated with the sampling design, the estimates of different classificatory characteristics have been obtained and presented in this article.
