I. Preliminary

A. Introduction

1. Lending to counterparties who are related or connected to the lending bank either through ownership stake in the bank or through their ability to control and influence the lending decisions may prove to be detrimental to the interests of the bank and other stakeholders. Globally, there are regulations on such related party lending and transactions which might create a conflict of interest or moral hazard for the banks.
2. Banking Regulation Act, 1949 places explicit statutory restrictions on lending by Cooperative banks to their directors as well as entities in which directors have interests. As related parties can be many entities other than what is covered under extant statutory restrictions, direct or indirect lending to such related parties remain a regulatory concern. Thus, it is imperative to put in place a comprehensive regulatory guideline to address such concerns.
3. Accordingly, these Directions have been set out to lay down the regulatory guidelines on related party lending for all Rural Co-operative Banks (hereinafter called a bank or banks or an RCB or RCBs).

B. Powers Exercised, Short Title and Commencement

4. The Reserve Bank being satisfied that it is necessary and expedient in the public interest to do so, hereby issues the Directions hereinafter specified. These Directions have been issued by the Reserve Bank in exercise of powers conferred to it under Sections 20, 21, 35A and 56 of the Banking Regulation Act, 1949.
5. These Directions shall be called the Reserve Bank of India (Rural Co-operative Banks – Lending to Related Parties) Directions, 2025, and shall come into effect from April 1, 2026.

C. Scope of Application

6. These Directions shall apply to all Rural Co-operative Banks (RCBs), i.e., State Co-operative Banks (StCBs) and Central Co-operative Banks (CCBs) (hereinafter referred to as a bank or banks), with regard to lending by them to a 'related party' and also to any contract or arrangement entered into by an RCB with a 'related party'.

7. Application to prior loans – With a view to ensuring non-disruptive implementation of these Directions, banks are permitted to let their existing related party transactions which are not in conformity with these Directions as on the date of issuance of the Directions to run-off till maturity, or one year from the date of issue of these Directions, whichever is earlier. However, banks are precluded from renewing such loans/ limits after their expiry or enhancing the limits sanctioned prior to the date of these Directions, unless they are in compliance with these Directions.

⁴ Personal loans as defined under Banking Statistics \(Harmonised Definitions\).

III. General Principles on Lending to Related Parties

This Section sets out general principles and procedures to be followed for prudent risk management of loan to related parties, wherever allowed.

G. Provisions in the Credit Policy

15. The Board shall have the overall responsibility of ensuring that suitable mechanisms are put in place for implementation of the policy on lending to related parties by the RCB.

16. The credit policy (hereinafter called the policy) of a bank, as required in terms of the extant directions, shall contain specific provisions relating to 'lending to related parties' in accordance with the provisions of these Directions. The policy shall prescribe, inter alia, additional safeguards to address the risks emanating from lending to related parties.

17. The policy shall also have specific provisions for lending to senior officers of the bank and their relatives.

18. Further, the policy shall:

- a) as a part of the whistleblowing mechanism, encourage employees to communicate confidentially and without the risk of reprisal, legitimate concerns about illegal, unethical, or questionable loans to related parties; and
- b) eliminate quid pro quo arrangements, if any.

19. The policy shall specify aggregate limits for loans towards related parties. Within this aggregate limit, there shall be sub-limits for loans to a single related party and a group of related parties. These limits shall be well within the extant prudential exposure limits prescribed by the Reserve Bank.

H. Materiality Threshold

20. Loans to related parties, which are not prohibited or restricted in terms of provisions of Chapter II of these Directions, can be extended by the banks in terms of their credit policy. Such loans, including personal loans to directors as mentioned at clauses (iii),

(iv), (v), (vi) para 10(a), shall be subject to a materiality threshold as per the credit policy, which shall not be higher than ₹1 crore.

21. Materiality thresholds may vary for different categories of loan to related parties and borrowers as per the bank's policy.

22. All loans above the prescribed materiality threshold shall be sanctioned by Board of the bank.

I. Recusal of Interested Parties

23. Directors, or KMP, whether a member of the Committee or not, with a direct or indirect interest in loans to related parties shall recuse themselves from deliberations and decision-making processes involving sanction, disbursal and management of loans to related parties, including one-time settlements, write-offs, waivers, enforcement of security, implementation of resolution plans, etc.

J. Monitoring of Loans to Related Parties

24. Bank shall put in place suitable mechanism for recording and periodically updating the list of related parties. Periodic reviews shall be conducted at quarterly or shorter intervals by internal auditors to check, inter alia, whether guidelines and procedures in relation to such loans are being strictly adhered to or not.

25. Any deviation from the policy relating to lending to related parties shall be reported to the Audit Committee of the Board.

26. Any product, entity or structure formed with the objective of circumventing these Directions through various means, such as reciprocal lending or quid pro quo arrangements, and identified as such by the auditors of the bank or by the supervisory authority and investigating agencies shall always be treated as lending to related party.

K. Role of Statutory Auditor

27. Statutory auditors shall examine representative samples of loans to related parties of the bank with a view to satisfying themselves that the processes and procedures laid down in these Directions have been complied with. All exposures to related parties which are group entities of the bank shall invariably be examined by the statutory auditor.

L. Declaration of Loans

28. Directors, and KMP shall give an annual declaration about all loans availed by them and their associated entities from the respective banks.

M. Reporting to Supervisors

29. Banks shall report to the NABARD on a semi-annual basis:

- a) Details of loans sanctioned and contracts awarded to, and arrangements made with related parties in the format provided in Appendix 1; and
- b) any non-compliance with instructions contained in these Directions.

N. Disclosures

30. Banks shall also disclose the information on loans to related parties and details of contract and arrangement with them in their notes to financial statements. At a minimum, the information shall include following information for the last two years:

- a) the aggregate value of outstanding loans to related parties;
- b) the outstanding loans to related parties as a proportion of total credit exposure;
- c) the aggregate value of outstanding loans to related parties which are categorized as Non-performing assets (NPAs);
- d) the outstanding loans to related parties which are categorized as NPAs as a proportion of total non-performing loans; and amount of provisions held in respect of loans to related parties and
- e) Top 10 exposures to related parties, where exposure shall include loans and advances, non-fund-based facilities, and values of contracts and arrangements with the related party.

O. Penalty

31. Any non-compliance with and circumvention of these Directions shall result in imposition of penalty as deemed appropriate by the Reserve Bank. These penalties may include imposition of monetary penalty, requirement of full provisioning, directions to conduct staff accountability exercises, forensic audits, restrictions and other supervisory and enforcement actions as deemed fit.
